

FORCEFUL APPEALS MADE FOR LACEY ADAMS

PASTORS APPEAR WITH TESTIMONY FOR CONDEMNED

Witnesses in Hearing Before Parole Board Assert Negro Forced to Take Part in Crime by Browbeatings and Threats of Loudermilk and Brown; Crist Laughs at New Testimony as Redfern and Snyder Clash

COLUMBUS, June 9.—Dramatic appeals by two pastors, a nephew and a friend, charging that Lacey Adams was "forced" into the murder of John Kidney of Circleville, today slightly brightened the Columbus Negro's chance of escaping execution tomorrow.

Browbeaten, hounded and threatened, Adams assisted in the Kidney robbery and torture because he feared for his life, the state parole board was told at a clemency hearing yesterday by Rev. Melvin Woodard, Jesse Adams and William Stevenson, all Negroes.

The arguments set up a complete new demand for leniency for Adams. Prosecutor Emmitt L. Crist admitted that "much of this we had not heard before." Governor George White today took the appeal under consideration. A decision as to whether clemency will be extended probably will be announced later today or early tomorrow.

S. F. Dunkle, special investigator for the governor, said there was some doubt as to whether the

JIM COX TO BACK SHOUSE

Says Democrats Should Cease Bickering Over Choice of Chairman.

DAYTON, June 9.—James M. Cox, Democratic presidential nominee in 1920, and a party chieftain today called upon Democrats to cease bickering over the permanent chairmanship for the national convention which opens at Chicago June 27.

Cox himself a presidential possibility urged that his party follow the dictates of the national committee and approve the selection of Joseph Shouse for permanent chairman. Efforts are reported being made to name Senator Thomas Walsh of Montana by the Roosevelt forces.

He asserted that the rejection of Shouse as permanent chairman would be "nothing short of studied humiliation of a man who has given his time and his talent in the furtherance of the most successful reorganization of any political party in a half century."

Man, Traveling For Health, Visits City

Samuel Labowitz, clean-cut Baltimore man of Jewish extraction, arrived in this city Wednesday afternoon and spent the night here in his walking trip from his native city to San Francisco.

Labowitz is walking for his health he says. He suffered a spinal injury during the World War and his health was broken as a result of his injury. Physicians in the east told him that the only way he could be certain of being cured would be to get plenty of walking exercises and fresh air. Accordingly he began his trip to San Francisco.

He isn't in a hurry, he says, but is just "walking for his health." He left his wife behind and began his journey April 20. On the entire trip, so far, he has ridden only 18 miles.

His course is now to Columbus and thence to Lima where he will enter the Lincoln highway for his trip across the country over the northern route to the coast.

ELKS TO OBSERVE FLAG DAY SERVICE

B. P. O. Elks lodge No. 77 will conduct Flag Day services next Tuesday at 8 p. m. with Leland Postius, past exalted ruler, in charge of the session.

A short address on the flag will be made by Past Exalted Ruler Warren H. Baker.

statements by Rev. Woodard, Adams and Stevenson constitute new evidence. If they do not, the governor probably will not intervene in plans for sending Adams to the electric chair.

The principal surprise in the case was furnished by Jesse Adams, the nephew, when he told the board that he discussed the Kidney robbery with his uncle on Nov. 15, 1931, almost a month before it was perpetrated.

FORCED BY PAIR

Henry Loudermilk and Walker Brown, who were executed last Friday for the Kidney murder, were trying to force him into taking part in the robbery, the elder Adams supposedly told his nephew. "I don't intend to have anything to do with that job," the convicted man was quoted as saying.

"He said Loudermilk threatened that his sons would kill him if he revealed the plans to police."

"He asked me to get him a different house somewhere so he could get away from Loudermilk."

Stevenson and Rev. Woodard visited Adams in his cell in Death Row at the prison yesterday before the hearing. They brought the information gained there to the parole board.

"When they reached the Kidney house, Adams tried to run away, but Walker Brown pointed a gun at him and made him come back," declared the minister, who formerly was Adams' pastor at the Ebenezer M. E. church.

"Adams was forced into this. Show me a man that wouldn't follow if a gun was put on him. Consider what you would do, members."

M'ADOO FAVORS U. S. REFERENDUM

Two Results Can Be Learned From Nationwide Vote, Former Secretary Says.

LOS ANGELES, June 9.—William G. McAdoo, former secretary of the treasury, today was on record in favor of a nationwide special referendum on prohibition. McAdoo suggested a national referendum to determine whether the eighteenth amendment should be repealed or amended to give Congress the power to regulate or prohibit the liquor traffic.

"The people themselves," McAdoo declared, "should be given the opportunity to vote through a national referendum, authorized by act of Congress."

"A vote of the people," he said, "would set at rest all conjecture or speculation as to the true state of public opinion."

McAdoo quoted his late father-in-law, President Woodrow Wilson. "President Wilson," McAdoo said, "thought it unwise to incorporate prohibition in the amendment itself. He was convinced that it would be better to give Congress the power to regulate or prohibit the traffic. He said: 'The amendment is an attempt by law to change long-established habits of a people.'"

DAVIS WARNS HOBOS TO QUIT WASHINGTON

CINCINNATI, June 9.—The king of the hobos has ordered his subjects to stay away from Washington while the bonus crusaders are conducting their campaign at the national capital.

Harry Fleischer, Sought In Kidnaping, to Face Extensive Grilling

DENIES CONNECTION Gangster Known as Leader of Purple Gang

DETROIT, June 9.—Harry Fleischer, notorious Detroit "Purple Gangster" sought all over the continent for questioning in connection with the Lindbergh kidnaping case, surrendered today to Wayne-co Prosecutor Harry S. Toy.

He is charged with the murder of three members of the "Little Navy-gang" in an apartment house here on September 16, 1931. His surrender brings to an end a far-flung search that extended from Canada southward into Mexico. At various times he was reported in Mexico, across the border from El Paso. Searching parties went after him, but to no avail.

The prosecuting attorney's office was amazed when this most-hunted of all gangsters nonchalantly walked in and said: "Well, boys, here I am."

Prosecutor Toy had no warning of his coming. He was flabbergasted when Fleischer, a broad grin on his face, stepped from an elevator on the fifth floor of the police station and stroled into his office.

Detroit police have sought the leader of the Purple gang since Sept. 16 last when Joe Lebovitz, Izzy Sutker and Hymie Paul were riddled with bullets in the Collingworth Manor apartment here in gangster warfare over alcohol.

In a confession by one of the gangsters arrested the next day Fleischer was named as one of the killers, according to Prosecutor Toy. Three other members of the gang were tried and convicted and are serving life sentences in Marquette prison.

HUNTED IN MEXICO

The search for Fleischer was intensified when New Jersey police issued an order to pick up all known gangsters, especially those suspected of kidnaping prodivities for questioning in connection with the disappearance of the Lindbergh baby.

Despite this great manhunt which of late centered in Mexico across the border from Al Paso where he several times was reported as having been seen Fleischer has been in Detroit for three days and said he appeared on the streets regularly without being recognized by police or molested by the searchers.

Asked about the Lindbergh case, Fleischer wearing a broad grin enlarged it into a heavy laugh.

"I had nothing to do with it," he said. "They can question me all they like. I can prove I was nowhere near the Lindbergh estate at the time of the kidnaping."

He also denied he was implicated in the Collingworth apartment murder. It was a warrant in connection with that affair on which he surrendered today.

Train Accident, Fatal To Many, Aired Today

MOSCOW, June 9.—An appalling train wreck in which scores of persons were killed was revealed to the public for the first time today when sixteen railway employees were placed on trial at Dnepropetrovsk in connection with the disaster.

The accident, it was revealed, occurred on May 15 at Zelonyy when two passenger trains collided head-on. Scores of passengers were crushed to death, many of the bodies being so badly mangled as to be unrecognizable.

Among those placed on trial were the station master and signalman at Zelonyy, who were accused of mixing up the signal while intoxicated. Heavy sentences are expected to be meted out to those convicted.

Former School Head Here Unhurt As Car Falls for 75 Feet

Col Crawford Hulby of Harris Military Institute, Norfolk, Va., former principal of Circleville high school, and a student of the military institute, narrowly escaped death two weeks ago when the car driven by the former fell a road and plunged over a 75-foot embankment. The automobile turned over twice and came to rest on top a wire fence. The car, an Oldsmobile, was practically demolished. Col. Hulby is well known here.

CARTER YOUTH BADLY BURNED IN EXPLOSION

Boy, 12, Taken to Hospital As Oil Drum, Being Cleaned, Blasts

ARMS, LEGS BURNED Accident Happens Here Wednesday at 3 p. m.

Edward Carter, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Carter of Williamsport, R. F. D. 3, suffered painful burns about the arms and legs and slight lacerations on the face, when an oil drum being cleaned by the youth's father exploded at the Circleville Oil Co. plant, W. Mound-st., shortly after 3 p. m. Wednesday.

The boy was rushed to Berger hospital by his father and Arthur Steele, employees of the oil company, where he was given medical treatment.

CLEANING DRUM

The youth's father had attempted to clean the inside of the oil drum by washing with gasoline and unsuccessful in this attempt he built a fire under the drum. Young Carter was standing only a few yards away when the explosion occurred.

The end of the drum was blown out and a portion struck the boy on the chest. Fire blown from the container burned his arms and legs and singed his hair.

The fire was immediately extinguished by employees of the plant and no damage resulted.

OHIO LOOKS FOR TRUCKS

Sheriff Here Notified To Hold Carriers of Four Different States.

The sheriff's department has been notified through an order coming from C. R. Wilson, head of the state department of motor vehicles, to watch for all trucks bearing license tags from Alabama, Minnesota, Mississippi and Tennessee and if any are seen passing through Pickaway-co to stop and hold them for the state department of motor vehicles.

The order is an outgrowth of complaints directed to the public utilities commission in which it is claimed the trucks from these states come into Ohio without the proper license.

C. E. Hathaway, who has charge of the truck division, has asked Sheriff Radcliff to hold all trucks seen passing through here with license tags of the above states until investigation of same has been made.

Police, Bandits Battle; 3 Slain

Three More Dying as Cops Find Pair Looting Houses; San Francisco is Scene.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 9.—Three persons were shot to death and three were dying as the result of a terrific gun duel between bandits and police in a residential district today.

The dead were Patrolman Mervyn Reardon, Ben Moore, alias Murr, alleged bandit, of Salt Lake City, and Harry Darling, a bystander.

Patrolmen Andrew J. Bell and Frank Loftus, and R. V. Dixon, alias Glenn Johnson, alleged bandit, of Salt Lake City, were in hospitals with bullet wounds expected to cause their deaths.

Dixon, police said, opened fire on them after his companion, Moore, had been shot dead as he resisted arrest.

Dixon killed Patrolman Reardon and Darling and wounded the other two patrolmen before he was shot and captured.

Darling has seen the two bandits enter the home of Officer Bell whose family was away on a vacation. With his brother, Elwood Darling, he watched the suspects leave and enter another home. The Darlings then summoned police.

Six policemen arrived by foot, and four radio machines, filled with other officers, responded. Search was made and Moore was found hiding under a bed. He was killed as he opened fire.

OPENED FIRE

Then as the group was passing Dixon's hiding place behind a radio the bandit opened his deadly fire, killing Patrolman Reardon and Darling, and injuring Officer Bell and Loftus before he was shot down.

Officer Bell off duty at the time, had answered the alarm sent to headquarters.

COUPLES, MAROONED ON ISLAND, HOME

The two couples, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Fluchenski and Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Gunn, were on the island Monday evening on a fishing trip. High waves suddenly blew up along the shore and fearing to chance a dangerous return, the couples decided to await a calm.

Yesterday, however, Paul J. Becker, caretaker of the Bay View Yacht club, reached the island aboard the tug Liberty and rescued the modern "Crusoes."

Capitol, White House Mouthpieces Deny Statement of Each Other

BORAH STAYS HOME

Proposed Resubmission Plank Causes Fury

WASHINGTON, June 9.—Republican ranks were split wide open on the question of a prohibition plank today, while capitol and White House spokesmen refuted each other on the status of the platform that is to be submitted at the Chicago convention of the G. O. P.

While giving no official cognizance of Capitol Hill reports that he had approved of a resubmission plank, one of the president's secretaries declared emphatically:

"No plank has been submitted to the President, and therefore no plank has been agreed to by him." At the same time it was said that neither Postmaster General Brown nor James R. Garfield had taken the text of such a plank to Chicago.

HAVE CONFERENCE

Report of executive approval was heard in the Senate just after Brown and Garfield conferred with the President as they prepared to depart for Chicago.

The Republican "dry bloc" of the senate, which attempted to agree on some move to halt a wet plank, failed to reach any accord. Some of its members argued they were committed in favor of prohibition and would remain so, despite the platform. Others admitted favoring resubmission, though opposing a resubmission plank. Still others declared they would not go to the convention and consequently would not be bound by the plank.

Senator Borah (R) of Idaho, outstanding exponent of Hovoverism in 1928, was in the latter class. Borah will not attend the convention and will not be bound by a wet plank. He declined to reveal his plans for the coming campaign although it is known he has volunteered to campaign in behalf of several dry Republican senators who seek re-election this year. He made no such offer to any wet.

CLASH OVER PLANK

Wets and dries clash over the proposed resubmission plan. Senator Steiwer (R) of Oregon, a referendum dry, declared it was a "great mistake to put the Republican party on record on the prohibition question." Senator Bingham (R) of Connecticut, wet leader, announced he would lead a fight to make the resubmission question include the question of outright repeal of prohibition.

"Prohibition is not the subject of party action," said Steiwer. "The people must save it by the election of a Congress complacent to their wishes and Congress cannot be elected by the declarations of a party convention."

"The prohibition issue is important, one of the most important before the people, but it is nonpolitical in character and should not be made an issue between the parties."

Bingham felt otherwise. He said: "The resolution at Chicago must provide the opportunity for each state to recover the right to decide for itself how it chooses to regulate the traffic in alcoholic beverages. It must give the government an opportunity to recover the revenue lost by prohibition. It must be so framed as to give us a chance to wipe out the tyranny of dry states dictating to wet states—a practice which has resulted in the failure of this noble experiment in temperance."

BONUS FORCES DEMAND FOOD; REFUSE RIDES

50 Mile Trip in Either Direction Flatly Turned Down By Leaders

TO AWAIT BONUS

Waters, Leader, Makes Statement Thursday

WASHINGTON, June 9.—The bonus army turned down a 50 mile ride out of town today.

Its leaders told the District of Columbia the bonus boys didn't want to ride, and set about the business of whipping a new national organization into permanent shape. A dozen big motor lorries placed at the disposal of any marchers who cared to set out homeward might as well have been hitching posts for all the consideration they got from the marchers.

The bonus-seeking veterans had other things to think about.

10,000 IN CITY

There were nearly 10,000 of them here today—10,000 men who came to lay on the demands of the American government for the soldiers' bonus, and they continued today to drum away on the theme that they are prepared to stay here until they get it.

The veterans are anxious to vote Monday on payment of the bonus in the House. But they want more than that. They want the bonus. And they continued today to drum away on the theme that they are prepared to stay here until they get it.

The immediate problem of the veterans was food. All sorts of promises of provisions went by hand—but the marchers can't get promises. Their leaders are facing the tremendous job of keeping 10,000 men fed. They didn't know where the food was coming from, but they stood firm on the platform that it must come.

WATERS IS LEADER

Walter W. Waters of Portland, Ore., was back at the head of the marchers today. Waters brought the first delegation of 300 men from Portland, and was made national commander of the bonus expeditionary force by general consent. He resigned when he became in several days after his arrival here, but internal political Winters plans to keep his men orderly and continue the fight for the bonus. He was busy building a National organization today. He said he was confident his men would be fed, but added he wanted more than food for them. He said:

"None of these men came here with the idea they were going to land in a bed of roses. We appreciate what has been done for us. But we are here to fight a battle. We are going to stay here and fight for the bonus. And we don't intend to continue under the conditions now existing."

NEED SHELTER

"Our men must have shelter. I don't know where it is coming from but we can't keep 10,000 men living in a field with nothing but straw and strips of cloth to cover over them."

"Don't think we're going home. We didn't come here for a 50 mile ride out of the District. We came a lot further than that, and we walked part of the way."

"Shelter must somehow be provided for these men. They cannot be allowed to live like animals. We have done the best we could up to the present. We intend to continue to do the best we can, and we intend to do better."

"We will continue orderly. We are not Reds. We don't want to cause any trouble. We are simply standing on what we consider our rights as Americans. We have come here. We believe it is our privilege to come here, even though we haven't any money. And we are here."

"There will be 50,000 of us in two weeks."

Lina Basquette, Screen Queen, Dempsey's New Heart Attack

Identity of Manassa Mauler's Lovely Companion Hidden Under Cognomen of "Rosita Gonzales." Both in Reno, but Deny Romance.

ESTELLE TAYLOR JACK DEMPSEY LINA BASQUETTE

Rumors of a romance between Jack Dempsey, former heavyweight champion of the world, and a beautiful Spaniard, with whom he has been seen frequently in Reno, received added impetus with the discovery that "Rosita Gonzales," as the mysterious beauty called herself, is none other than Lina Basquette, glamorous ornament of the silver screen. Lina, according to her mother, changed her name for business reasons and is not in Reno for any other purpose than that she needs a long rest. Apparently Lina finds Dempsey's company restful, for she spends most of her time with the ex-champion. The screen queen was going about with Teddy Hayes, Dempsey's former trainer, until Jack happened upon the scene and began to pay attentions to Lina, whereupon Teddy smashed Mr. Dempsey, who strangely did not retaliate. However, Lina fired Teddy, who had been her manager, the next day. Meanwhile, Jack's former wife, Estelle Taylor, though reported engaged many times since her divorce from Dempsey, is apparently heart whole and fancy free. She is finding a lot of fun in decorating her new home in Santa Monica, Calif. Lina Basquette has been married twice. Her first marriage was with Sam Warner, film magnate, who died and left her a fortune. Her second venture, with Peverl Marley, cameraman, ended in the divorce court.

DO YOU INHALE?

Silence may be golden

... but is that why other cigarette advertising is generally silent on this question?

WHEN the truth hurts—it's only natural to avoid the subject! Inhaling has long been an "untouchable" topic in cigarette advertising. And no wonder! In every tobacco leaf—even the finest, the mildest—nature hides certain impurities which, when not removed, are unkind to delicate membranes!

And since, knowingly or unknowingly, every smoker inhales some part of the smoke from his or her cigarette, Lucky Strike developed that great scientific process which removes certain impurities. Luckies created that process. Only Luckies have it!

Do you inhale? More than 20,000 physicians, after Luckies had been furnished them for tests, basing their opinions on their smoking experience, stated that Luckies are less irritating to the throat than other cigarettes.

ROOSEVELT IS GIVEN SEABURY ASSERTION

NEW YORK, June 9.—The case against Mayor James J. Walker formally tossed into the lap of Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt by Samuel Seabury who climaxed a series of "conclusions" with the declaration Walker's conduct rendered him "unfit to continue in the office of mayor" today became a major issue in the national political arena.

For in submitting to the Governor the transcript of the testimony relating to the Mayor before the Hofstadter legislative committee Seabury, its chief counsel, in an accompanying letter put the issue of removing Walker from office squarely up to the Governor.

UP TO GOVERNOR

From the record submitted and after a hearing, you can determine whether the public interests and the maintenance of decent standards among public officials require that the Hon. James J. Walker should be removed from the office of Mayor," Seabury wrote.

Because of the political ramifications involved in whatever course the Governor decides to adopt, the matter was likely to affect his chances for the Democratic nomination for President, for which he is a leading contender.

Malfeasance and nonfeasance "in disregard of his office as mayor" was charged against Walker in a summary of an analysis by Seabury of the committee hearings relating to Walker.

Fifteen specifications were made against the Mayor, including the source of his income except by "the same principle as the 'tin box' alibi," that he had fiscal transactions through the account of his agent, Russell T. Sherwood, and that he held $10,000 in bonds of a firm which received a city charter, thus violating the city charter.

Improper actions in connection with the Equitable Bus company franchise and acceptances of "beneficences" from private persons, also were attributed to the Mayor. Seabury plainly stated he made no "request or petition" in regard to the facts he submitted to the Governor, and he avoided using the word "charges" throughout his communication, but the net result was to leave the Governor with the task of determining the fitness of Walker to continue in office.

With the publication of the Seabury letter and analysis, it was believed certain the proposed formal charges against Walker by a group of civic organizations would be presented immediately to the Governor.

Millionaire Nurse

Preferring a career as a nurse to the gay life of a society debutante, Editha Pierce Davis, 20-year-old heiress of Boston, has put aside her share of the Pierce-Davis millions to apply to the Salem Hospital for matriculation in the nurses' training school. Her legacy includes the beautiful Davis estate, "The Acres."

CUYAHOGA-CO AND CLEVELAND IN LEAD

COLUMBUS, June 9.—Cuyahoga county and Cleveland combined pay one-fourth of the state's industrial payroll, according to the Ohio State university bureau of business research.

The top-heavy role played by Cuyahoga county in Ohio industry was revealed in an investigation just made of the business of the state in 1930 by H. G. Brunsman, associate in the bureau.

Of the total Ohio industrial payroll of $1,750,000,000, manufacturing accounted for more than a billion dollars, according to Brunsman.

SERVICE INDUSTRIES' Of the remaining $750,000,000 was paid out as wages and salaries in the non-manufacturing industries, one third was paid in service industries (hotels, restaurants, banks), a fourth in trade, and a sixth in transportation and public utilities, and a slightly smaller sum in the building and construction industries.

"In manufacturing industries of the state," Brunsman said, in a preliminary report, "the four metal working groups of industries accounted for more than half of the billion dollar wage and salary bill. Both the machinery and the iron and steel groups of industries had total payrolls of more than one fifth of the billion dollar total."

"The manufacture of motor vehicles accounted for 80 million dollars and the industries working in metals other than iron and steel paid out 57 million. In the non-metallic manufacturing, laces, paper and printing headed the list with an 86 million dollar total, but was closely followed by rubber products with 82 million, and food and kindred products with 66 million."

DECLINE 15 PER CENT In 1930, Brunsman reported, the decline in the payroll total in all industries amounted to 15 per cent in the state as a whole.

This same rate of decline was recorded in the Cleveland and Youngstown areas. Yet in the Cincinnati and Columbus areas the corresponding drop was only 8 per cent. In the Toledo area it was 26 per cent, in Stark county 24 per cent, in the Akron area 20 per cent, and in the Dayton area 18 per cent.

Total payroll in the manufacturing industries of the state fell off 22 per cent in 1930 from 1929, while the total of all non-manufacturing industries showed a decline of only 5 per cent.

Cause of Carbuncles Carbuncles are deep infections of subcutaneous tissue which take place through minute cuts or through the hair follicles.

Prober Seabury "Dark Horse" for Presidency

Work on Investigation Committee Turns Spotlight on "Grand Inquisitor," While Placing Roosevelt in Cleft Stick.

Since Judge Samuel Seabury's recent verbal duel with Mayor James J. Walker, of New York, at the hearing of the Hofstadter investigating committee, the Grand Inquisitor's stock has soared to such heights that he is now being boomed for the Presidency. But the main effect of the Walker-Seabury ask-me-another battle was the situation it created regarding Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt, leading Democratic candidate for the nomination. It is certain that either Seabury or one of the civic organizations interested in the Hofstadter probe will petition the Governor for Mayor Walker's removal. A refusal by the State executive to take disciplinary action against the Mayor would result in recriminations from outside New York State, charging the Governor with timidity and pro-Tammany sentiment, while, on the other hand, should Roosevelt oust the Mayor from office it is on the cards that he would lose much support in his own state where Walker still remains the popular idol—among New York City's seven millions, at any rate. With this Gordian knot, coupled to the "stop Roosevelt" movement, in the path of the Democratic favorite an impassable deadlock may result at the Chicago convention, the result of which might be the nomination of a dark horse. It is well within the bounds of possibility that that horse could be Samuel Seabury. Ironically enough, Seabury was the Democratic nominee for Governor of New York in 1916, and backed by Tammany—the same Tammany of which he is now regarded as the nemesis.

Europe Tries It

BEFORE the United States began the severe restriction of immigration the same relationship existed between prosperity and the number of immigrants welcomed and bad times and the number of departing immigrants that is now to be found in the European countries talking of immigration restriction.

This is only natural, but it has often been overlooked in discussions of the immigration problem of Europeans. At the same time they have failed correctly to estimate the net effect of immigration restriction upon the people affected.

In their resentment at not being permitted to enter the United States foreigners have charged this country with deliberately seeking to pauperize the European working classes. Aside from the palpable absurdity of such charges,
they overlook the fact that South America, and to a lesser extent
Canada, and Australia, welcome immigrants.

So accustomed had the people of Europe become to the opportunity to emigrate that they looked upon it as an inalienable right when the countries on the receiving end began cutting down on them for economic and social reasons. It will take years to reconcile them to the lowered gates in the land of opportunity, but a little toying with the problem by Europeans at home will expedite the process. They will be more charitable toward Uncle Sam now that they know what it is to have more alien residents than employment.

Time and Custom

THE Japanese considers it courteous to make a loud, pleased noise when sipping soup; the well-bred Englishman piles peas with his knife upon his fork then eats
from the back of the fork; the American is unique in considering it well bred to tip this soup plate away from him to call a man a cow in France is as insulting as to blatantly sneeze in America.
Time was, and not only long ago, when a woman was indecent who showed an ankle; the quarter sleeve masculine bathing suits of 20 years ago seems merely cumbersome today.

Such are the vagaries of taste and judgement and custom. What seems moral or modest to one race
may be most immoral or immodest in another. And that works both ways between the civilized and the savage.

Morals being geographical probably accounts for the fact that a book banned as obscene in Boston is in good standing elsewhere in the United States.

That is obscene which shocks;
that shocks which is unfamiliar.
There can be no absolute standards of obscenity of profanity; they are relative to the mind of the listener. Hence it is inevitable that judgments should differ in different cities and from one year to another.

Never a Time Like This

IN all societies man feeds more upon abstractions than he does upon facts. He is doubtless the most content who finds his kingdom in his mind. Such was the teaching of the days when the right to the pursuit of happiness was written into the Declaration of Independence, and the doctrine has not yet gone out of vogue. Yet the tangible and negotiable are what appeal to most people in this age
of utilitarian comforts.

This generation derives most of its pleasure from automobiles,
radios, sports, theaters and traveling. It likes fine homes, luxurious furnishings, fine clothes and simple but costly jewelry. It is enjoying life if ever there was a generation that did.

But it works as well as plays. It must work to indulge in the luxuries and pleasures the man of today feels he must indulge in. And working at high speed it must play harder or break under the strain.
Despite spectacular crime and pillage, there was a day of worthier experience with higher rewards than exists today in the United States for the young man who is willing to do one thing—work like best intelligence to honest work.

RAP LEADER OF VETS

TUCSON, Ariz., June 8.—Denounced because he has opposed certain veterans' benefit bills now pending before Congress, C. B. Babcock, national commander of the Disabled American Veterans, was bitterly assailed by the Arizona D. A. V. convention here. A resolution proposing his removal as national commander was voted by acclamation in a scene of pandemonium
as 20 delegates clamored to speak.

SYNOPSIS

Pretty Mary Kennedy breaks her engagement to the elderly but wealthy sports promoter, Buck Landers when she falls in love with his young ward, Steve Moore. Landers kidnaps Steve and threatens to frame him unless Mary marries Landers. Mary flirts with Landers hehchman, Bat, to gain his confidence. She learns of Steve's whereabouts and goes there alone. In a dingy flat, Mary is confronted by two thugs who deny all knowledge of Steve. They hold her and phone Landers. Landers arrives and orders his men out. When Landers refuses to leave, Mary shoots at him,
but misses. He flees. Steve confesses to Mary that he is engaged,
but he loves her. Mary has misgivings when Steve plans a visit to Eileen Calvert, his fiancée, to explain the situation. Steve writes that he has not had an opportunity to speak with Eileen. Mary replies, pouring out her heart to him. Bill Calvert, Eileen's brother, calls on Mary. Mary realizes his motive is to prevent her marriage.

CHAPTER XXXV.

"If Steve's love and yours is true and lasting, nothing on earth will ever keep you apart," Bill Calvert told her.

"I call it, Mr. Calvert—I call it crooked!"

Beneath his tan, Bill Calvert grew pale. Then a flash burned in his cheeks. He lifted one hand—and dropped it.

"I never meant to frame a rotten deal on you. I only wanted to do something to give Eileen a fair chance."

"A fair chance!" Mary's voice rang with a little wildness. "If you want to give Steve a fair chance to compare us—let her come down here and live like I do. Let her work all day in an office, and pay for her own clothes and board and room on twenty-five or thirty dollars a week.
Let her skimp and save and starve so she can buy a new hat! Yes, and let her quit a dozen jobs because the boss gets fresh. Let her get up and go to work every day, whether she's sick or well. Let her be jammed around on the subway, and pay for her cheap winter coat on the installment plan. Give her four or five years of that, and see how sweet and delicate and refined she'll be.
Put her through the same mill I've been through, and you can bet your life I won't be afraid to meet her on even terms, any day in the week!"

The passion in Mary's voice shook her to the core of her being. She was trembling all over, breathing with difficulty. Suddenly she had the power to control her feelings
—she jerked away from Bill
Calvert and sped to the opposite door, and back toward the poor refuge of her shoes crowded flat.

Mary's slight home was a rout, a passion of her emotions she could no longer control. She tore away her dress—but there was a new kind of pain stabbing her with a money buys, would make me look pretty cheap and crushed. She

Going Barefoot the Most Frequent Cause of Hookworm--Foe of 'Pep'

Discovery in Recent Years of Its Cause and Cure Have Reduced Greatly the Prevalence of This Malady, Which May Soon Be Completely Wiped Out.

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
United States Senator from New York.
Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

FOR many years little was known concerning hook-worm. The disease was common, particularly in the Southern States, but there, as elsewhere
where persons
go barefoot and
in this way contract the disease, its true
nature was un-
suspected.

It was estimated at one time that more than 30 per cent of school children in the South had this disease, and although the disease is not as prevalent as formerly, it is still a serious menace to the health of many who are still to be found in some States.

Hookworm is caused by small worms which enter the body
through the skin, reach the circulation and eventually are carried to the intestines. There they burrow into the walls of the intestine and do severe damage to the health of the individual, before they are eliminated.

In 1912 the Rockefeller Sanitary Commission discovered that the disease could be prevented. To accomplish this, they found it necessary to pass sanitation laws and to instruct the public in personal hygiene and the dangers of walking about barefoot.

"Uncinari Americana" is the scientific name of the worm that causes this disease. It is often referred to as the "worm of laziness," because its victims have no
"pep" or strength. They show definite signs of backwardness and have low resistance to disease.

At first they complain of minor stomach disturbances. These appear to disappear upon the taking of food. There is a yearning for odd articles of dirt, such as clay, dirt, cray, chalk and hair, because eating these substances gives relief
and comfort.

The hookworm sufferer has a pale complexion, is thin and undernourished, complains of dizziness, palpitation and shortness of breath upon the slightest exertion,
and soon becomes mentally dull
and physically unfit for any kind of work.

Children with this disease have prominent abdomens and are far below the average size. They are retarded in mental and physical development, shiftless and incapable, and eventually become a burden to the community.

Fortunately the treatment of this disease is simple. "Thymol"
or "Carbolic tetrachloride" is the remedy, and often just a few doses clear the system of all the worms and eggs of the hookworm.
It is estimated that a single dose will remove 95 to 100 per cent of the worms.

The advantage of thymol over other drugs previously used is that the patient need not stay in bed
or remain inactive during the treatment.

The Daily Horoscope

Thursday, June 9, 1932

The morning hours of today are shown to be most favorable for those who occupy positions of authority. The rich and the powerful should find this date benefic to their interests. This also applies to those who reasonably aspire to greater power and position.

Employees who deserve promotion
would do well to seek opportunities today. In fact, everyone who has a genuine desire for success should take the initiative today. It is no time for the lazy, the indifferent or
the thoughtless.

Large schemes and plans in the world of politics may be developed during the morning. Government affairs come into prominence, and the ways of the mighty may fill a large place in the day's news.

Caution is needed to avoid accidents just before noon. This is a critical period in an otherwise fortunate day. After 2 p. m.
the indications are most favorable for those engaged in scientific work. New discoveries may be made during the afternoon. A time to seek out new ideas and put them into effect.

People born near the 11th or 12th
of May should avoid sudden moves today. There is danger of hurt and injury to those folks unless they exercise care.

Children having their birthday on this date are determined, shrewd
and stubborn, yet just in nature.
Later they develop executive ability. Such children work or play better in the company of others rather than alone. They are loyal in disposition and are popular with their playmates. As they grow older they become good talkers and entertainers. They are successful in such lines of work as involve service.

Among the famous people whose birthdays fall on this date are:

Raymond Blaine Fosdick, Ameri-
can author; John Howard Payne, 1791, author "Home, Sweet Home";
Clarence Grant Hamilton, 1865,
organist and teacher; Otto Nicolai, 1810, German composer.

CIVIC PRIDE

The pool and garden at Main and Scioto-sts is certainly a good example of civic pride.

The space it occupies was some years hence a most unsightly place but since the buildings have been occupied by Mader & Ebert
they have beautified it from time to time.

This spring they built a pool
and garden and with a small outlay of cash and lots of labor, (though most enjoyable labor as Mr. Mader put it), they have accomplished a pleasing result.

It is rather a community garden being located as it is and can be enjoyed by all, different from the usual in the private home which can be seen by a privileged
few. A community garden, too, from the fact that many of the plants and stones were the gifts of friends who were interested in the project.

The pool is 50 feet long and is unusual in shape and design and is ideally adapted to the space it occupies, winding in and out and crossed by an artistic bridge. It has a most natural appearance.
Shrubby, rock plants and flowers of all descriptions surround it and a variety of water lilies, cat-tails, calumet, parrot, feather,
water hyacinth, Egyptian grass and a pretty little fountain to supply the water.

The south portion is so arranged that the gold fish are separated from the rest where game fish of various kinds are scampering

Gomez, Grove In Great Hill Battle

NEW YORK, June 9.—The southern duel between Vernon (Goofy) Gomez, brilliant young star of the New York Yankees, and the veteran Lefty Grove, of the Athletics, for recognition as the premier hurler of the American league, waxed hotter than ever today, with Gomez enjoying a slight edge.

The slim ace of the Yankees has whiffed 14 batters and leads both leagues in that specialty. He has won 10 games and lost only one. Grove has 76 strikeouts to his credit, has won 11 games and lost three. Lefty has won his last 10 games, while Gomez has captured seven in a row.

HOME RUNS AIDED.—Both hurlers pitched and won yesterday, Gomez beating Detroit 5 to 4 and Grove taming Cleveland, 3 to 1. "Goofy" struck out 13 men but issued nine passes and was in hot water when Fogel whacked a homer with two on base. Ruth and Gehrig had to put on their home run act to pull him through. Babe's being his 17th and Lou's his 12th. These blows accounted for four runs and Gehrig's single sent in the fifth. With Washington losing, the Yanks increased their lead in the pennant race to six games, the biggest margin they have enjoyed all season.

Grove helped win his own game against Cleveland with a home run that probably afforded him more pleasure than his pitching feat.

The A's jumped all the way to third place, Detroit dropping to fourth and Cleveland to fifth.

Washington had the White Sox ready for the cleaners, but with two out in the ninth and the bases full, Charlie Berry smote a triple that gave Chicago the ball game, 2 to 2.

GOSLIN CRASHES.—Goslin walloped a homer, triple and single and "Spinach" Melillo chipped in with four hits as the Browns faced the Red Sox again, 11 to 4.

Football scores prevailed in the National league. The Cards clubbed five Boston pitchers for 20 hits, winning 15 to 3, and shoved the Braves back into second place. The Cubs regained the league lead by scoring two runs in the 14th inning to nose out Brooklyn, 7 to 5.

Making New Record

Ray Eastman, sensational track star of Stanford University, is shown as he broke the tape in the 800-meter event of the Pacific Association track and field championships at San Francisco to establish a new world's record. Eastman covered the distance in one minute, fifty seconds.

Hal Lee clouted a homer, triple and single as the Phillies took an 11 to 1 slugfest from the Pirates. Four Cincinnati errors helped the Giants beat the Reds again, 9 to 2, and take sixth place away from Dan Howley's men, who have lost their last seven starts and are only two points away from the cellar after making an impressive start in the race.

Old Plainsman Plans to Ride Steer 1,000 Miles

Gering, Neb.—Tom Livingston believes that the modern generation needs to have its knowledge of the old West revived.

This eighty-two-year old veteran of the saddle and the range days proposes to help in the revival. He's planning to straddle a steer next year and ride the "critter" from Gering to Chicago—nearly 1,000 miles.

Livingston, howl-eyed from riding bronchos, believes if he gets a steer with a reasonable amount of meat he won't be such bad riding.

The old plainsman proposes to finance his steer ride to Chicago by sale of pamphlets on route. He plans to start early enough so as to give him time to sell his literature.

The newspaper story of a woman wrecking a saloon in Alabama with a hatchet is probably a geographical error. Alabama is a dry state, so has no saloons.

French Tennis Crown for U. S.

Made just before the final round of the French women's doubles championships at Paris, this photo shows the American team at the net with its British opponent in a chat before the battle. The American team, composed of Elizabeth Ryan (left) and Mrs. Helen Wills Moody (second from left) defeated Betty Nuthall (right) and Eileen Bennett Whitridge (third from right) of England by a score of 6-1, 6-1.

REDS SINKING

The tragedy of the Cincinnati Reds today yanked Manager Dan Howley's team down to seventh place in the National league.

Beaten in seven straight games, unable to win since Memorial Day, they may fall even lower.—To eighth place, the cellar. Even the New York Giants have passed them.

The Giants steamed ahead of Cincinnati by a half game yesterday by getting 10 hits off Eppa Rixey and Larry Benton. The score was 9 to 2 and every New York run was unearned. Four Cincinnati errors in the first four innings were largely responsible.

Two weeks ago the Reds were rated as dangerous pennant contenders. They have had a sudden fall.

Catcher Ernie Lombardi continued his batting spree, the bright spot in the Cincinnati attack, with three hits, but despite their hits, the Reds could get nowhere on the bases.

Cleveland, losing a 5 to 1 game to the Philadelphia Athletics yesterday, permitted Lefty Grove to mark up his eleventh victory of the season. The A's thus went into third place and the Indians tumbled out of the first division into fifth position.

Winning over Milwaukee, 7 to 2, the Columbus Red Birds climbed into third place in the American association. Toledo defeated Kansas City, 10 to 4, for a fifth straight victory.

AMERICAN PRO SMACKS MARK

Record For 'Unbeatable' British Course Set by Gene Sarazen; Holds Lead.

SANDWICH, Eng., June 9.—Playing the brand of golf that brought Bobby Jones immortal fame, Gene Sarazen, Stocky little New York professional, our ace up the Prince's course for a 39 in the second round of the British open championship today to hold his lead with a magnificent 33-hole round of 129 strokes.

Sarazen negotiated the course—the most difficult in the British Isles—three strokes under par to equal the new record established in the qualifying rounds.

Shortly before Gene electrified the huge gallery with his performance, Tommy Armour, Detroit pro and defending champion, had tumbled for his 75 of yesterday by carding a sub-par 70 for a total of 145.

Percy Alliss, veteran British professional, had another 71, duplicating his first round card to take second place behind Sarazen with 142.

Sarazen's card administered the final blow to the old tradition that Prince's is an "unbeatable" course. Jack Hutchings set the old record of 71-strokes in the qualifying rounds of the 1922 championship. By beating this record by one stroke yesterday and two strokes today, Sarazen assured himself of a permanent niche in British golfing history.

Sarazen's card: Out 4, 4, 3, 4, 2, 4, 4, 5, 5, 35. In 4, 4, 4, 4, 3, 3, 3, 4, 5, 34, 39.

STUDENTS GIVE SONG RECITAL

The following account of the song recital given by the pupils of Mrs. Dolores Maxwell of Chillicothe Tuesday evening was taken from a Wednesday issue of a Chillicothe newspaper.

A song recital by the pupils of Mrs. Dolores Maxwell is always anticipated with the greatest pleasure, and that of Tuesday evening was most satisfying to the large audience that assembled at the First Presbyterian church.

Mrs. Maxwell is one of the finest voice teachers in this locality, and the excellent instructions that she gives her pupils is discernable in the great improvement noted in the older ones, and a careful technique and voice placement of the new ones.

The program opened with a lovely duet "It was a Lover and His Lass" by Mrs. Maxwell and Thos. C. Giles. "Verborghenheit" and "Er ist's (Tis the Spring)" by Hugo Wolf, were given an exquisite interpretation by Helen B. Marion. It is always a pleasure to hear Miss Marion, whose beautiful soprano voice has the clear, bell-like quality of pure crystal.

Mary R. Wood, one of the new pupils, displayed a most promising voice, her low registers being unusually lovely. She sang "To You" and "Sylvie" by Speaks, and "With the Wind and the Rain in your Hair" by Edwards. Another new-comer, was Hildred McClure, a charming young woman who has a most pleasing voice of great volume, which she used to advantage in "Chanson de Florian" Godard, "Berceuse" Gretchaninoff and "Dawn Light and Bird Song" Speaks.

"Kypris" Augusta Holmes and "My Native Land" Matter were sung by Mrs. John C. Wilkins who has a voice of lovely quality which it is always a pleasure to hear.

One of the most promising singers on the program, whose voice should take him far should he care to continue in the field of music, is Franklin Price of Circleville. His voice is of an unusually beautiful quality and timber, with great volume. His selections were "Caro mio ben (Dearest Beloved)" Giordani, "Clorinda" Morgan; "Home on the Range" Guano; "Lift Thine Eyes" Logan.

Mrs. Cliff Miller who has a sweet soprano voice, sang "Madrigal" Chamnade and "Love has Wings" Rogers, and Thomas C. Giles whose lyric voice is always pleasing sang "May Night" and "Love Song" by Brahms.

The lovely voice of Caroline Maxwell was displayed to advantage in three selections "Dream Clouds" Daen Shure, "In a Garden Wild" Maley and "I Meant to do My Work Today" by Mowry.

Custodian among the singers was William Everett Trickick who gave an exquisite interpretation of the beautiful aria "Le Reve" (Manon) by Massenet. This is one of the most difficult of the operatic arias, and Mr. Trickick is to be commended upon its presentation. He also sang Handel's lovely "Where'er You Walk."

"A Picture" Curran; "Clouds" Ernest Sharies and "Let all my Life be Music" Spross, were sung by Laura B. Foster, who has a lovely soprano voice, and "To an old Love" Scott and "Who Knows" Stickle, were sung by Melvin A. Yates, whose tenor voice is always so thoroughly enjoyed by the audience.

Another Circleville singer who is always received here with pleasurable anticipation is Mrs. James F. Moffitt, whose lovely contralto voice was heard to advantage in two German selections "Sappische Ode" Brahms and "Im Herbst" (In Autumn) Franz.

The program was closed with three beautiful compositions: "Tric" Daniel Wolf; "In the Luxembourg Garden" Manning and "Mountain Raabach" which were sung by Mary Radcliffe of Circleville. She has a high clear soprano voice especially suited to these selections.

It was to be regretted that Leslie Gatwood who is always a pleasurable addition to any program was unable to be present.

Capable support was given the singers by the accompanists Abbe Mills Clarke, Circleville, Mrs. John C. Wilkins and W. Andrew McNeils.
